Deutsche Bank Channel Islands bolsters intermediaries and trust teams

Deutsche Bank in the Channel Islands has bolstered its senior team in its Guernsey office by appointing Daniel O'Driscoll as Head of Financial Intermediaries and promoting Jayne Wallbridge, Head of Business Operations for the Bank's Global Trust Solutions Division, to Director.

In his new role, Daniel will focus on growing Deutsche Bank's well established business that supports a broad cross section of financial intermediaries, including trust companies, asset managers and captive insurance managers. In addition, he will also take on the responsibility of Guernsey Branch Manager, overseeing the Guernsey operation.

Daniel brings a wealth of experience in financial services to the Bank. He joins from Barclays Bank in Guernsey, where he provided strategic banking solutions to fund administration clients. Prior to that he worked for eight years at another major banking group in London and South Africa, primarily in investments and asset management. He is a Fellow of the Chartered Management Institute and also holds an MBA in Finance from Durham University Business School. Locally, Daniel has served as a sub-committee member of the Guernsey Investment Fund Association (GIFA).

Jayne Wallbridge originally joined the Bank as Manager of Client Accounting in 1997 when it was Deutsche Morgan Grenfell, and her role has expanded over the years as the business has grown. She now heads up the global business management team that is responsible for overseeing the control environment of the whole of Deutsche Bank's Trust Solutions division, which has a presence in Guernsey, Singapore, the Cayman Islands and Switzerland.

Over the last two decades, Jayne has been involved in a number of milestone strategic projects for the Bank, including establishing and embedding specialist teams in Mauritius and Singapore and successfully integrating newly acquired business.

She is a Fellow of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (FCCA) and holds a Masters of Business Administration from the University of Warwick Business School.

Andreas Tautscher, Chief Country Officer, Deutsche Bank, said: “With experience gained over a period spanning almost two decades at Deutsche Bank, Jayne has been instrumental in helping to shape our global trust business from Guernsey. I’m delighted that her dedication and contribution has been recognised with this promotion. At the same time, Daniel is a key appointment for our financial intermediaries team and will be instrumental in growing the business across the Channel Islands and representing our Guernsey operation.

“Jayne and Daniel are both fantastic additions to our senior teams in the Channel Islands and reflect our ongoing commitment to Guernsey as a jurisdiction.”
